Jenni,

Thank you for your email. I have been busy attending to the end of the semester and graduation in the college and have not had the opportunity to respond to all emails. I respectfully decline to give an on-the-record statement as Marquette does not comment on personnel matters.

Sarah

Lynn,

Thank you for sending my personnel file.

Perhaps you can be equally helpful in delivering to me a formal explanation for why my O'Brien Fellowship supervision of assigned interns was terminated prematurely -- a decision made by Acting Dean of The J. William & Mary Diederich College of Communication, Sarah Feldner, but for reasons undisclosed to me despite recent and repeated requests for clarification.

I recognize that there is a possibility that Marquette University is still working on relaying this information to me, and if that is the case, I look forward to receiving an immediate update for what is hardly incongruous in maintaining a healthy and professional employee-employer relationship.

I've attached to this email my latest request made to Dean Feldner of which you were cc'd to earlier this week. I reach out to you regarding my unanswered query with consideration that it may now fall into realms maintained by Human Resources given policies and procedures that would warrant such basic-level communication, notwithstanding concerns of disparate treatment. To be sure, no other O'Brien Fellow has encountered like-minded and unexplained treatment over fellowship related matters with regard to intern supervision.

Thank you,

Jenni Monet

Hi Jenni:

I received this request because personnel files are maintained by HR. I've attached a PDF of your file.

Thanks,

Lynn

Dave,

As my time at Marquette winds down, I'd like to obtain a copy of my personnel file that may include documents related to my invitation and engagement with the O'Brien Fellowship throughout the 2018 and 2019 program.

I'm away until next week and plan to return to the O'Brien Suite, perhaps no sooner than next Friday or Saturday, to clean out my office. If you could simply leave a copy of my personnel file on my desk, that would be appreciated.

Thank you,

Jenni Monet
